

A photograph of a room's interior, focusing on the ceiling and upper walls. The ceiling is constructed from dark wooden planks and features several thick, light-colored wooden beams. Two rectangular skylights are integrated into the ceiling, allowing natural light to enter. The walls are a plain, light color. On the right wall, there is a white-framed window with multiple panes and a white radiator. On the left wall, there is a small window and a stack of cardboard boxes. The floor is a light, neutral color.
