

An aerial photograph of a residential neighborhood. A large, light-colored house with a reddish-brown tiled roof is the central focus. A yellow circle is drawn over the house, with the text "672-321" inside it. The house has a swimming pool in the backyard and is surrounded by green lawns and trees. To the right of the house is a paved road with several parked cars. Other houses with similar architectural styles are visible in the surrounding area.
