Introduction to Dhama

The auspicious name of 'Jagannatha' is nowadays heard not only in India but in every corner of the world. The holy abode of Sri Jagannatha attracts everyone. This abode is the most famous holy place and from time immemorial, pilgrims go there to take darsana of the deity of the Lord. This holy abode is resplendently located on the eastern side of India and by the Bay of Bengal.

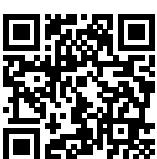

To know about the transcendental dhama, we will have to see things from the eyes of scriptures and not our material eyes.

Sri Purusottam Ksetra

As stated in Srimad Bhagwatam, "dharmam tu sakat bhagawat praitam" Lord Jagannatha is the original founder of Sanatana dharma. To give joy to His devotees, He incarnated to this material world and performed uncountable and mysterious performances. In order to formulate all these performances, Saktyavesa incarnation K?ka appeared as Dwaipayan Vyasa. He presents seamless and infinite knowledge in the form of four Vedas, Upani?ads and Brahmasutras but these are not understandable by an ordinary person. Therefore, he presented the entire knowledge in an easily understandable form in 18 Puranas for the common person to get aware of all this.i.e Bhagwadgeeta.

Appearance of Lord Jagannatha in Sri Ksetra

In the illustrious era of Satyayuga, the righteous and virtuous King Indradyumna, hailing from the lineage of Chandras, ruled the Earth for a period of Avartana. Situated in the southern region of the earth, he was a very munificent and pious ruler in the court of King Indradyumna, the 16th generation successor of Brahma, was enthroned under the name of Udran. On the surface of the earth, the King Indradyumna had a child, Sri Jagannatha. During an assembly of great saintly persons, scholars, and sages, King Indradyumna expressed a profound desire—to witness the Supreme Lord. This heartfelt yearning surprised and intrigued the assembled gathering. Responding to the king's earnest wish, the Supreme Lord appeared in the court, adopting the guise of a mendicant. With folded hands, the Lord conveyed that in Bh?ratavar?na near the southern sea of Udran lies a sacred place named Sri Purusottam. There, amidst a dense forest, stands the colossal N?lagiri mountain encircled by a sprawling banyan tree spanning two miles. This divine abode, home to Rohit? Ku?o?a, offers spiritual liberation to those who dwell beneath its branches. The

Appearance of Lord Jagannatha in Dwaraka

In the resplendent era of Dwapara Yuga, Lord Krishna, the epitome of divinity, dwelled in the celestial city of Dwarka with His 16,108 queens. Among them, Queen Rukmini, adorned in opulent surroundings crafted by the celestial architect Vishvakarma, resided in a palace adorned with Vaidurya gems and fragrant with the essence of Indranila gems.

One day, as Rukmini lovingly served Lord Krishna, her heart swelled with curiosity, and she bravely questioned the Lord about a mystery that perplexed her. With genuine concern, she inquired why, in the depths of the night, He would cry out in distress during his sleep. She sought understanding about the identities of Nanda Maharaja, Yashoda, and the enigmatic Radha, whom He called out to in his slumber. Expressing her confusion and a desire for clarity, Rukmini yearned to comprehend the depth of Lord Krishna's emotions for others. She openly shared her feelings, acknowledging her initial belief that she was His dearest wife, only to discover the profound love He reserved for Nanda, Yashoda, and the gopis like Radha, Lalita, Vishakha, Subala, Sudama, and Sridama. In her plea, Rukmini requested the Lord to unravel the secrets of His heart, longing for answers to the questions that had stirred her soul. To know more, why Lord was crying while sleeping read the Book name Sri Jagannatha Puri. also available in Hindi
