Il massaggio Kalari (dal nome di un'antica arte marziale indiana) è caratterizzato dall'uso esclusivo dei piedi ... ha origini lontanissime, risalenti ad almeno 3000 anni fa: nella regione del Kerala (Sud-Ovest dell'India) era considerato il miglior tonificante per i guerrieri che si preparavano ad affrontare una battaglia o che dovevano guarire da traumi e contusioni. Anche oggi è usato per allentare la rigidità articolare, sciogliere i blocchi muscolari, alleviare la stanchezza.

La tecnica

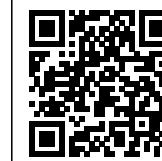

L'operatore determina e modula il tipo di pressione da esercitare sulle diverse parti del corpo del ricevente appendendosi a una corda fissata al soffitto. Il massaggio prevede l'uso di oli che vengono applicati indifferentemente con la pianta del piede destro o sinistro e con movimenti drenanti e linfatici...

Massaggiatore applica la forza, secondo intensità e pesi diversi, tramite le sue gambe aggrappandosi a corde di supporto attaccati al soffitto .
