DESCRIPTION:\r

Inspired by the legendary Red Special by Brian May, an instrument that has achieved iconic status and a unique place in rock history, The BMG Special is an extraordinary guitar, with superb build quality, extraordinary playability and a surprising variety of tones. killer.\r

In fact it offers everything you expect from an instrument built to the exacting standards of one of the greatest musicians in the world, but, in line with Brian's vision of a "guitar for the people", with an incredibly convenient price that belies his appointments and superior performances.\r

\r

Undoubtedly one of the most anticipated instruments of the century, the original House Music was born in the Burns Ward, Birmingham, May 1981, which was a first in the UK in 2001 to a large club and the public in the UK "Guitar 3000" Guitarist, who he called in the first half of the year the first references along the world govt. about the song "The guitar 3000" in the fan of music, the song "We're in the World" .v

But the story did not end there.

Working with Brian and his old guitar technician, Pete Manfredone, House Music founded Brian May Guitars in 2004 with the launch of a new "Speciale". With production re-located in one of the world's most respected instrument production facilities, The BMG Speciale has seen significant improvements in design, specifications and construction. The subsequent iterations released in 2006, 2012 and 2017, saw further updates and improvements to the Special bridge assembly, pickups, electronics, hardware, finishes and color choices.\r

Simply put, the best production guitar of the best artist in the world has constantly improved.\r

\r

The BMG Special is an extremely versatile and professional-level instrument designed not only to replicate the unique sound of one of the true heroes of rock 'n' roll, but also to provide modern musicians of all musical persuasions with the perfect guitar for any environment of performance.\r
